Ron,

Good morning. I'd like to discuss. I am confident we can find mutually acceptable language. If we still don't agree, we will file separate forms. We have been more than accommodating.

Are you free at 10:30?

Sent from my phone - please excuse brevity and typos.

Dear Mr. Castor:

While the majority of the parties' disputes regarding the language of the Protective Order have been resolved, two significant ones remain. First, with regard to Paragraph 7.1, my clients will not agree to any language giving Switch the right to use highly confidential documents against third parties or to use this litigation to seek information about third parties. MTech and Mr. Fairfax will only agree to the language that we proposed for this Paragraph. Second, the language that you have proposed in Paragraph 10.2 is insufficient. The letter that I sent to Mr. Tueller on August 19, 2019 identifies the language that we want inserted into the Protective Order regarding remedies if the Protective Order is breached.

If Switch is unwilling to revise the language in its proposed Protective Order to assuage my clients' concerns, then we should likely submit competing proposed orders with the Court.
